

The Cursed Love

Nitin (24) is running from the police when he finds an old, unknown house and hides inside. From another room, he hears the sweet voice of a woman talking to her baby. Meera (24), at first, is scared of him and threatens to call the police. However, seeing him beg, she lets him stay for a while. She stays in her room and wears a veil but offers him food. They talk for a while, and then Nitin leaves.

The next night, Nitin comes again to her place. When Meera asks why he has come, he says he likes talking to her. He reveals that the police are looking for him because he killed a man. Meera is frightened and asks him to leave. Then he says that he had to kill that man because the man was turning into a zombie and begged him to set him free. Meera feels sorry for him and shares that her husband has been missing for a few days. She admits she doesn't mind as much because he was abusive. Both feel closer to each other.

The next night, Nitin comes again and expresses his love for her. She feels the same but explains that she is still married and has a child, so they can't be together. Nitin requests to see the baby before leaving. He enters the room and spends some time with the baby. While leaving, he sees a photo of a man and asks who it is. Meera says it is her husband. Nitin is shocked; he tells her that this is the man he killed. Meera gets angry and attacks him. In her rage, her veil slips, and her face is revealed. Nitin is shocked—she is a zombie. He tries to calm her down but finally has to leave.

[Song]

Nitin comes back after a few days and apologises. He says he can't live without her and wants to marry her. Meera loves him too but knows it's dangerous. However, Nitin is not ready to back down. She tells him to come the next night at 8. Nitin comes early and says the police are after him again. He is puzzled about how they found him. He sees Meera building a fire. She looks at him. He understands everything, but before he can do anything, she lights herself on fire. Nitin tries to jump into the fire too, but the police catch him.

Before they take him away, he holds the baby in his arms and walks off with them.
